ABOUT NATHAN LEE ALLEN

Nathan is an outdoor, travel, and adventure photographer and influencer from Louisville, Kentucky now living in Lexington, Kentucky, traveling the world with his wife, Devyn, and fellow and creatives.

He is passionate about two things: creating and inspiring others. His desire to create content that is beautiful, bold, boundless, and beneficial for his clients has made him a sought after photographer and content creator in the commercial world. He uses that same content, which lives on his Instagram, TikTok, and Facebook, to inspire thousands of people to, "Get Busy Living," every day.

Nathan believes that the best content isn't limited to the four walls of a studio, and should be create in the most beautiful places in the world. Whether you partners with him on a commercial project, social media campaign, or ambassador program, your brand will go places, literally, alongside one of the top emerging names in the industry.
